

Cancellation Policy

In the credit repair industry, no company can predict a certain outcome when working on a client's report. Because of this, we will do our best to assist you with removing inaccurate, incorrect and unverifiable information from your credit report. Services are provided on a month-to-month basis and clients may cancel their service at any time at least (5) five days in advance of any upcoming recurring payment. When cancelled according to these terms, the upcoming recurring payment will constitute the final payment due for services rendered.
